TUESDAY TIDBITS - April 30, 2019

Welcome to this week's Tuesday Tidbits. Or in this case the "Wee hours of the morning Wednesday" Tidbits. Thanks for your patience. We wanted to implement the WHAT'S NEW page on our website which allows you to view the most recent items released by our artists without the normal login to our Licensee Portal. This should make it easier for you to quickly find the most recent items without having to scan through the library. Please let us know what you think and how it works for you.

BLUE PRINT SHOW....SNEAK PEEK

As you have probably noticed the Blue Print Show is coming up soon. We at Artistic Designs Group are in the middle of preparations, and our artist's are busy creating new art work to show.

This will be our first time to exhibit at this New York City show and we are excited about seeing our current partners and contacts and looking forward to meeting new ones. BluePrint Surface Design & Print Show opened in 2015 with only 12 studios represented and has grown so fast that it had to add a second location and a second city as well. You will find Artistic Designs Group at Booth 26 in the Shop Studios Hall. Shop Studios can be found on the 4th floor of 528 W 39th in New York City. This year's show is scheduled for May 20-23, 2019.

After surveying our current partners, we at ADG made the decision to exhibit at Blue Print instead of Surtex this year because not only did our current partners feel it would work well for them, we viewed this as an opportunity to reach out and felt that the May dates would make it more convenient for everyone, New York can be brutal in the winter.

We look forward to seeing you in May and here is a peek at some of the new works we will be sharing in New York. To schedule an appointment please either drop us a note at Julie@Artsdg.com or call us at 410.923.3786.

Happy Creating,
