HALLOWEEN IN JUNE, CHRISTMAS IN JULY

It's Christmas in July, or at least it is here at ADG. This is the time of year when our calendar shows us that it is time to submit seasonal designs in a number of product categories. We ramp up our research on anything new in seasonal designs, check out what categories sold well last year, and see what our artists have created. Albeit it's not scientific, but here is what we found.

Our expectations for Fall / Winter Holidays 2020 will see an expanded showing of gold, copper and other metallic highlights. Colors will be bright and bold. Christmas will remain traditional, but with the addition of more bling. Snowmen are still out front, but this year has shown an increased acceptance of polar bears and penguins for the winter. Halloween will be showing up in neon colors! Pumpkins are still taking the lead, however, the owl is proving to be very popular. Thanksgiving has always been colorful due to the change of seasons and the additions of reds, oranges, copper so it will show the least amount of color change.

Does this mean things will be boring but bright? Not at all. For instance our artists are showing elegant designs in gold and silver on bold backgrounds. We are sharing global influenced designs in bold and bright colors. Our snowmen and winter scenes have sky's that are a bit bluer, inviting us to come outdoors. The scarves and mittens are bolder even the polar bears and penguins are wearing brighter colors.

Join us as we look through our artist's portfolios. These samples are just the tip of the iceberg. Please visit our website at www.artsdg.com And check out the featured Fall and Winter Designs, Or contact Julie at 410-923-3786.
