

Artists Series - Meet Debi Payne

As I am sure you have noticed, it is HOT. Even Europe is experiencing record temperatures this week. I turned down the thermostat and grabbed a cold drink to survive. This is when building a pool in my backyard gains priority in my mind. Forget the cost. I need a pool, something to float on, and a big hat. Oh well, I do have a nice deck and a back yard full of nice shade trees, maybe some more cool breezes would be nice?

Debi, also likes pools. She said she would just sit by a pool and relax if money was not an issue.

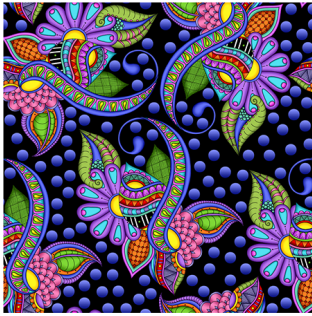

She enjoys bringing joy to her audience and clients, "It's not the number of people that we meet, but rather the number of hearts we touch that really matters".

Her artwork is full of interesting patterns and shapes she discovers in the world around her. This is the approach that she takes in all her designs.

It is her desire that she can help others to build their own personal positive environment and -- then, together we can all build a more positive world.

We asked her some questions about her life, and her art which helps to learn a bit more about her.

What is your favorite activity in the summer?

When the family comes over and we can all sit on the patio and visit while grilling a delicious dinner.

What is your favorite thing about being an artist?

My favorite thing about being an artist can be said in one word – “Freedom”. Not only do I have freedom to work when I want to, but I also have freedom to be myself and create what I want.

If time and money were no object, what is one thing that you would like to do?

I would love to take a quiet little vacation that didn't have a schedule and I could just sit by a pool and relax.

What do you like people to feel from looking at your art?

Happy! I love it when somebody looks at my art and they smile. At that point I feel like my work is done.

Where do you go for inspiration?

I go to some of the strangest places. Since I am always looking for new patterns and shapes, I look at things like nature, architecture, concrete and other materials like that.

Last time you went shopping what stood out to you?

How expensive everything is!!! Sorry, but it has been so long since I have been shopping (other than the grocery store) that I don't even remember the last time I went shopping.
