

Before I dive into this week's newsletter, I would feel remiss if I didn't take a minute to talk about the tragedy taking place in Ukraine. We have all been moved by their pain and devastation and would like to help. I want to share that we have a couple of opportunities for that help coming to our website soon. Please check in about two weeks for this info, We would also love it if you could share with us any opportunities in this area where we could help as well.

Don't forget the beauty that you share with your work - be it image design, or putting your beautiful designs out into the world on products is important -- as it speaks to the soul and often brings out hope.

We offer our prayers and support to those being affected and hope that the misery will soon end!

Whiskers and Wags

Whiskers and Wags. What speaks to our hearts more than the unconditional love found in our four legged friends (except maybe our kids on a good day 😊). Whether you are a cat lover, a dog lover or another pet lover, please enjoy perusing these images and let us know if you would like to see more.
